Spousal Support Section:

Spousal support is based on length of time of the marriage and the ability of the other party to pay. Due to the fact that we are a document preparation service we are unable to provide you with information regarding spousal support. If you are seeking spousal support and you do not have an agreement with the other party you will need to seek legal advice as to your rights regarding spousal support. The court will require a hearing to determine the information necessary to make an order for spousal support.

Is either party seeking spousal support? Yes No

Do you have an agreement on the amount and duration?

Separate Property

List any separate property that was acquired prior to the marriage, or acquired by a party during the marriage by gift, or inheritance. The court will confirm that property to the party listed. This could be any kind of property i.e.: bank accounts, retirement, houses. If the separate property was mixed with community property during the marriage the parties must agree that the property will be confirmed to the original owner their separate property.

Please list all separate property and how it is to be divided: all vehicles, pensions/retirement/401(k).

Vehicles: include year, make, model, license plate number- list who is getting each vehicle (petitioner or respondent). Accounts: include the name of the institution the account is with and the last 4 digits of the account number- list who is getting the account (petitioner or respondent).

Community Property Section:

Community property includes anything that the two of you have acquired since the date of marriage and includes everything from vehicles, residences, furniture, furnishings, bank accounts, retirements, pensions, 401(k)s, life insurance, stocks etc. It is very important to make sure that all the property is listed to protect both parties. If you do not have an agreement a court hearing will be required to so that the court can make an order dividing the community property pursuant to the family code.

Community Debt Section

Community debts are debts that the two of you have incurred during the marriage. If you do not have an agreement a court hearing will be required so that the court can make an order dividing the community debt pursuant to the family code.

Do you have community debts? Yes No

Please list all community debts and who will be paying that debt (petitioner, respondent, or both). If both, put the percentage or dollar amount each person will assume. Provide the creditor's name, balance owed, and last four numbers of the account.

Community Debt	Creditor owed	Balance owed	Last 4 digits of account	responsible for debt?

Previous Court Cases: (this includes Family Law, criminal, and civil cases)

Does either party have any previous court cases with this spouse, former spouse, or child(ren)? If yes, please provide the case number and the current status of the case (closed, pending).

Yes No
